Local runners winning races

By Ken Johnson

Local runners are doing well in road races lately.

Dan Byrne, 57, ran the Austin 10/20 10-Mile race in Austin on Sunday and finished in 1 hour, 2 minutes and 35 seconds. He won 1st place of 86 runners in the 55-59 age group. Byrne is a retired Texas Department of Criminal Justice Facilities Division manager.

Jason Wallace, 41, a Huntsville forester, won his age group at the Texas 10 Series 10-Miler in Boerne on Sunday. He completed the distance in 1 hour, 8 minutes and 28 seconds, beating out 14 others in his age group.

Trinity High School Track and Cross Country standout, Francisco Manzanares, 16, was the overall winner in the Texas 10 Series 5-Mile race in Boerne on Sunday. He finished in a blistering 32 minutes and 52 seconds. Manzanares also won the Texas 10 Series 5-Miler in College Station in January.

While Byrne, Wallace and Manzanares are super fast and winners, all the others participating in races are also winners. They are exercising to stay healthy and live a better life - and hopefully a longer life.
