Gautreaux fastest local runner at Houston Marathon

By Ken Johnson

Jacob Gautreaux, 38, of Huntsville was the fastest local runner in the Houston Marathon on Sunday. He finished the 26.2-mile course in 3 hours, 12 minutes and 50 seconds. This placed him 34th among the 756 male runners in his 35 to 39 age group.

Robert Duncan, 50, of Huntsville was the fastest local runner in the Half Marathon race. He finished the 13.1-mile course in 1 hour, 35 minutes and 40 seconds. He was in 7th place among the 375 male runners in his 50 to 54 age group.

Nearly 20,000 runners from all 50 states and many foreign countries hit the slippery streets of Houston in the rain and relatively high heat and humidity on Sunday and finished the marathon, half marathon and 5K races.

Congratulations to all the local runners who participated and finished.
